

Only Nature has Smarter Packaging Solutions

OSH & Training Co-ordinator

No one can beat nature's ability to design truly amazing solutions, but we reckon we're the next best thing. We're looking for an OSH & Training Co-ordinator to keep an eye on our Health & Safety and facilitate training within our three Auckland-based manufacturing plants. We need someone to keep our H&S policies, procedures, analysis and reporting top notch, so we can continue to make innovative solutions for some of New Zealand's biggest brands.

If you're a person who can build solid relationships at all levels, have a fresh take on H&S process efficiency and monitoring, developing initiatives within different divisions, evaluating training needs and are looking for a top notch environment where creativity is rewarded, this could be for you. We want people who not only think big but can get the job done, because what takes nature thousands of years we do every day.

We're committed to changing the way we do business and we need people who are ready to roll up their sleeves and challenge themselves.
