

CARTERS

YourBuildingPartner

National Health & Safety Account Manager

You will relish the opportunity to step into a role that will advance your career by combining your strategic leadership experience with your technical health & safety nous.

Carters Building Supplies encompasses over 50 retail branches and frame & truss manufacturing sites throughout New Zealand, from Kaitaia to Invercargill. With overall responsibility for HSE across Carters nationally, you will play a key role in developing strategies to ensure Carters has comprehensive HSE systems and programmes which drive best practice, effectiveness, compliance and continuous improvement.

Part of the operational management team, this position is responsible for taking EH&S at Carters to the next level, with increased focus on business continuity and strategic risk management. You will also have the added responsibility of improving culture and mindset towards health & safety throughout the business.

Naturally you are well versed in New Zealand health & safety legislation, and have outstanding communication, technical and management skills. With strong commercial acumen, you'll also bring an in-depth understanding of the ACC Partnership Programme and be confident working in large multi-site environments. Your ability to work through others to improve current processes and practices will be the key to your success.

Succeed in this role and you'll build credibility, stretch yourself and advance your career.

We offer a vibrant and supportive working environment and are committed to helping employees achieve work-life balance. This role is Auckland-based, however this is negotiable for an exceptional candidate.
